MOUNT VERNON.

The Woman's Gymnasium celebrated "Visitors" Day" yesterday. It was the second annual reception of the organization, and the classes that have been under the instruction and drill of Miss Elizabeth MacMartin during the fall and winter terms gave an interesting exhibition of their proficiency n athletics, There were three classes-the woman's, intermediate and children-for each of which there was an interesting programme of evolutions, including jumping, vaulting, marching, Indian cluba, dumb-hells and rope climbing. There was a large attendance of visitors, most of them relatives or personal friends of the contestants, filling the large suditorium of Fairfax Hall. No men were permitted to witness the contests, but the women who were privileged to be present declared that the exhibition was a most creditable one.

The managers of the Mount Vernon Extension Centre met last night at No. 45 South First-ave, to hear the reports of the winter's courses, and to lay out a plan for next season.

The auditorium of the Tarrytown Lyceum was comfortably filled on Monday evening by citizens of the village interested in organizing a course of lect ures under the auspices of the State University Extension. The Rev. J. Selden Spencer presided and Melvil Dewey, secretary of the Board of Regents, delivered an address that was instructive and entertaining. He thoroughly explained the objects and aims of the University Extension and the benefits of lectures delivered under its direction, and at the finish of his remarks he was heartily applauded.

At the meeting of the Roard of Trustees on Monday night applications for franchises were heard from the North Mount Vernon trolley line and the White Plains company. The Mount Vernon line wants the franchise so as to complete its connection with White Plains, extending its tracks to the county seat through East Chester and Scarsdale. The two franchises evidently conflict, and the trustees postponed action to some date in the future.

said:

During the winter of 1894, and while making preparations for the regular biennial meeting to be held in January, 1895, the discovery was made that through an oversight the original articles of incorporation had not been filed in the office of the Secretary of State, as required by law, and that in consequence this society was not legally incorporated and could not hold its regular meeting, placing upon your directors the alternative of either dishanding the society and starting it anew, with its hievitable loss of membership and the interruption of its work, or the postponement of the regular meeting until the defect in the incorporation could be rectified by a special act of the Legislature, and the continuance of the work upon their personal responsibility.

PUBLIC HEARINGS BEFORE THE MAYOR.

ONE SPEAKER CALLS EVERYBODY, INCLUDING COLONEL STRONG, A NUISANCE. Mayor Strong gave hearings on several bills

yesterday. The first was the bill authorizing the Brooklyn Bridge trustees to employ an additional conductor on each train of cars, whose official duty it shall be to see that there are no obstructions on the tracks and to provide against collisions. No one appeared for or against the measure, and it was approved by the Mayor.

The next bill was that amending the law so that henceforth the Board of Aldermen shall have power to issue permits for the erection of newspaper booths under the elevated railroad stairs. Lawrence J. Callanan appeared against the bill, and urged that it be vetoed, as it was prejudicial to the public interest. President Jeroloman said that the elevated stairs were nulsances in themselves, and that they would were nuisances in the hooths were permitted be greater nuisances if the booths were permitted under the steps. Lawson N. Fuller appeared in favor of the bill, and said that "everything is a nulsance per se. You are a nulsance, Your Honor, nulsance per se. You are a nulsance, Your Honor, to a certain gentleman from up the State, because you will not do his bidding. I have been a nulsance for fifty years. Every gentleman in this room has been a nulsance at some time to somebody. The cable-cars are a nulsance and the grooved track is a nulsance, but we need them and cannot very well get along without them." Alderman Fred Ware favored the bill because it merey gives the Board the legislative right to do what it now does under the city ordinances.

The Mayor will probably approve the bill later in the week.

The third bill was that authorized.

The Mayor win probably approved in the week.

The third bill was that authorizing the erection of a hospital for contagious diseases to be built at East Sixteenth and Seventeenth sts. and Avenue C. The hospital has been termed the "posthouse," for in it will be kept patients suffering from scariet fever, typhoid and typhus fever, and similar diseases. There was no opposition to the bill, and in its favor President Charles George Wilson, of the Health Department, spoke. The bill merely authorizes the lease of the property for ninety-mine years. The Mayor approved the bill.

A SHARP RISE IN COTTON.

MR. INMAN SHOWING HIS GRIP ON THE MARKET-

cotton market in this city for a month or so as a cat plays with a mouse, gave the shorts, who had put out small lines the day before, another bad turn yesterday. Mr. Inman was on the floor in person directing his brokers, and as usual when he is on the floor, there is "ginger" enough in the market to suit everybody. Confident and heavy buying for this large operator carried prices up easily, and they closed at night II to 13 points over Monday's finals on this crop, strong and at the top. August closed at 7.88 and May at 7.91, which was 13 points net rise

Mr. Inman has on the market there was nothing particularly new in the situation, except that, desspite the small purchases weekly made by New-England spinners, there is a steady and continuous sumers and a steady reduction of the scanty stocks held in America. Port stocks are now down to bales, against 205,000 hast year at this time. Fort receipts yesterday were 8,327 bales, less than half of last year's movement, while exports were 13,000 bales. Exporters in two days have bought 3,500 bales in this market, and home spinners about 1,500. New-Orleans sold yesterday 2,500 bales, Memphis 1,500, Mobile 500, St. Louis 500 and Galveston 357. Europe goes on consuming about 120,000 bales of American cotton a week, with five months still to be covered before any new cotton can reach European mills from America. Talk of a huge ten or twelve million-bale crop is not heard any lonner, but instead there are good bets offered in New-Orleans that the outturn of the growing crop will be under $9,000,000.

that the outturn of the growing crop will be under 9,000,000.

The Fall River print cloth market was reported firm and active yesterday, with prices higher for odd goods, while "special drives" in this city were clearing up stocks of cotton fabrics in the drygoods district rapidly.

Liverpool closed steady at 1 to 2 English points higher for the day, though spot sales were small—only 8,000 bales. There were renewed rumors of manipulation in the market also.

TROUBLES IN THE 9TH REGIMENT.

AN ATTEMPT TO SECURE THE RESIGNATION OF CAPTAIN GEORGE W. WILCOCKS.

The troubles in the 9th Regiment will not subside. When Lleutenant George S. Barnard, of Company G, resigned it was hoped that there would be no more friction, and that the members could go to camp and to their new quarters in perfect harmony. But the Company G troubles broke out again on Monday night. The colonel was asked by Major Japha, Major Lorigan and a number of other offi-cers to request Captain George W. Wilcocks to resign. In the document which the officers pre-sented to Colonel Seward they averred that Captain sented to Colonel Seward they averred that Captain Wilcocks had been guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. Captain Wilcocks declared that the charges made against him were false, and that he would not resign. Colonel Seward, when questioned, said that everything connected with the matter would be closely investigated, and that if the facts warranted it he would ask Captain Wilcocks to resign.

the facts warranted it he would ask Captain Wilcocks to resign.

The whole trouble originated some time ago when Company G gave a "stag" at the armory on a Saturday night. The affair was, according to common report, hoisterous and vulgar, and the doors of the armory were kept open until after midnight, making the affair a Sunday morning entertainment. The report was denied by Captain Wilcocks and by Co.onel Seward. If the present trouble is laid before a court martial the true facts in the matter will probably come to the surface. In the mean time there are rumors affoat to the effect that the 9th Regiment will be reduced to a battalion.

POLICY WITNESSES MISSING.

THE TRIAL OF PARKER ADJOURNED FOR THAT REASON. The trial of Cornelius B. Parker, who is known as "The Policy King," for running and backing policy games, was yesterday adjourned till to-day, owing to the disappearance of two of the prosecution's witnesses. Judge Cowing granted the adjournment on Assistant District-Attorney O'Hare's motion and issued attachments for the missing witnesses. They are a man and a woman. Both are said to have left the State. Superintendent Dennett, of the Parkhurst Society, thinks they have been spirited away. Mr. Dennett said that a gambier on Monday night offered to bet him $100 to $1 that the case of Parker would fall through. Dennett said he believed that there was a combination of policy men in the city to upset the Parker trial.
